

Terms of Use and Privacy

The International Last Home site is provided as a service to its members and visitors. Last Home International reserves the right to modify, add or delete any information or any element of this site, at any time and for any reason.

Disclaimer

Last home international will do everything possible to ensure that this site contains valid information that reflects its statutes and internal rules. However, it is impossible to guarantee that they are error-free, up-to-date, accurate or complete. No warranty, formal or implied, with respect to the content of this site is provided. Under no circumstances will Last International Residence, its directors, employees, agents, ambassadors or suppliers be liable, directly or indirectly, for any direct, indirect, consequential, deterrent, special or any other damage: loss of data, revenue or profit; loss or damage to property or third party claims arising out of or in connection with the use of this website and its contents or any other hyperlinked websites. A member who wishes to have information can make the request by writing to the email secretariatddi@ddinternational.org

Hyperlink to third party site

As a service to members and visitors, and as such only, Last Home International may include hyperlinks to other websites in its content. As these sites are not under its control, Last Home International cannot be held responsible for their content. The fact of including hyperlinks on one's own site does not in any way constitute any endorsement of the content of these sites.

Privacy

Last Home International is committed to protecting your personal data and your privacy. We use the data collected to fulfill the mission of the organization and to communicate with you.

Use of personal information

We use your data to deliver the requested content (PDF, newsletter, etc.). Your name, date of birth and telephone number allow us, among other things, to contact you as part of our mission: to manage cases of death, inform you about current events and promote our services. Your email address is necessary to enter into direct communication about our services (obituary) and to deliver a newsletter, if you have expressly requested it. The information is kept indefinitely to be reused if necessary. You can request the cancellation of your right to membership at any time by email. To stop receiving our newsletter, you can unsubscribe by clicking on the link in the mailing.

Transmission of your details to third parties

Only under legal compulsion (by court testimony, interrogation, request for documents, subpoena, request for a civil investigation or other similar procedure by order of a court of competent jurisdiction, or in order to comply with any applicable conditions imposed by a government agency or other regulatory authority, or other legal obligations) that Last Home International will disclose your information to third parties.

Protection of personal data

We observe strict security measures with regard to the archiving and disclosure of the information you have transmitted to us, in order to prevent any unauthorized access. Our General Management takes care of privacy at Last Home International. (secretariatddi@ddinternationale.org)

Access to your data

At any time, you can consult, modify or request the removal of all your confidential data by contacting us at secretariatddi@ddinternationale.org

Last Home International reserves the right to modify its privacy policy at any time.

Cookies

Cookies, commonly called cookies, are files saved by a web server on your computer to identify you. Our cookies do not contain confidential information. They include a number that only allows you to be identified as a user, to suggest content likely to interest you and to make your visit more pleasant and user-friendly. Most web browsers automatically allow cookies to be stored. To refuse them, modify "Your preferences" in your browser. You will still be able to access most of the content.
